Supervisors Will Hold Organization Meeting January 15

Chairman Will Be Named, Other Officials Also Chosen During Session

The organization meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors will be held on Thursday evening, January 15, at 7:30 o'clock at the court house.

At that time the board will elect a chairman to succeed Edward E. Murray, who became Ulster County Welfare Commissioner on January first; a clerk of the board, county attorney, jail physician and a county auditor and purchasing agent. The deputy clerk of the board is appointed.

One of the first duties of the new chairman of the board will be naming of committees for the term.

Several names are being advanced by the majority party members and it has been the custom in the past for the minority members to also present a name for chairman and clerk. Among the names being suggested by the majority are: Harry Snyder of Rosendale; Charles Schmitt of Marlborough; and Harry D. Sutton of Plattkill. Whether these names will be proposed from the floor next Thursday evening is not known but a contest for the chairmanship is anticipated.

Widow Gets 90 Days For Lewd Home Parties

Bay City, Mich., Jan. 9 (AP)—An attractive widow began a 90-day jail term today after pleading guilty to staging wild "love nest" parties at her home for a score of teenage high school students.

Three of the youths, one aged 17 and two 19, were to appear before Municipal Judge David R. Lewis on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, the same charge under which Judge Lewis yesterday sentenced Mrs. Frances Peyok, 23.

Policewoman Eleanor Olson said the young widow staged "shocking" drinking and sex parties in her four-room home in the presence of her five children, the eldest of them 8 years old.

The parties took place over a two-month period, said the policewoman, until a neighbor's protest led to Mrs. Peyok's arrest.

In sentencing the widow, whose husband died a year ago, Judge Lewis said, "I am sorry the law restricts me to such a short sentence. This is the worst case I've ever heard of."

Palestine Commission Calls for Consultations

Settlement Made In Assault Case

Rethier-Roosa Action Is Adjusted Prior to Court Re-opening

Thursday afternoon the $15,000 assault action brought by Henri Rethier of Lake Katrine against former Supervisor Auley C. Roosa of Lake Katrine, was announced settled. The action grew out of an alleged attack on March 18, 1947, when the two men met at Al's Tavern on the Saugerties road and a fight ensued.

Plaintiff alleged he had been attacked without provocation and beaten up so badly that he was confined to the Benedictine Hospital for four days and then left against the advice of his physician in order to attend to business.

Chris J. Flanagan for plaintiff opened the case for his client just before noon and N. LeVan Haver, who appeared for the defendant, presented an outline of the defense to the jurors in which he contended there had been no feeling between the two men for some time and that the defendant, Roosa, had been threatened by plaintiff and that the acts on March 18 had been taken in self defense.

When court opened after the noon recess Justice Bergen before whom the case was on trial in Supreme court announced the matter had been adjusted and the jurors were excused until 10 o'clock Monday morning when the term will be continued.

Also announced settled Thursday was Nos. 164-157, negligence actions brought by Carl and Bernard Joseph against Henry Myers and another, Elmer H. Nathan for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook for defendants.

Says Team Is Same

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—Edwin F. Jackie, Erie county Republican leader and one of the trio who conducted Governor Thomas E. Dewey's campaign for the presidency in 1944, said today the same team is working for the governor's nomination this year. In 1944 Jackie, Herbert Brownell, Jr., former Republican national chairman, and J. Russell Sprague, national committeeman for New York, acted as a team in behalf of the governor who won the nomination but was defeated by President Roosevelt, then running for his fourth term.

C. I. O. Council Opposes 3-Cent Hike in Subway Fare

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer's proposed three-cent hike in New York city's nickel subway fare today is opposed by the Greater New York C. I. O. Council which said increased income sought by the city could be obtained "without souling low-income groups already hard-hit by rising living costs."

The council, which voiced its disapproval in a resolution adopted last night, simultaneously endorsed another proposal advanced by O'Dwyer to relieve the city's financial difficulties: Increased state aid for hospitals and schools.

The two proposals are included in a "package" legislative program prepared by the mayor for introduction at the current session of the Legislature.

The council, referring to the C. I. O. Transport Workers Union's recent endorsement of the fare increase, said wage increases sought by the transit workers "must not be made dependent upon the outcome of the fare proposal or any other tax proposal."

Partition Group Plans Talks With Three Parties as Opening Process

Lake Success, Jan. 9 (AP)—The United Nations Palestine Partition Commission today called on Britain, the Jewish Agency for Palestine and the Arab Higher Committee for immediate consultations on the situation in the strife-torn Holy Land.

Moving swiftly at its first session, the five-nation partition commission decided to talk with representatives of the three vitally interested parties as the first step toward implementing the U. N. plan to cut up Palestine into Jewish and Arab countries by next October 1.

The commission acted as dispatches from Jerusalem reported the first instance of infiltration of sizeable "volunteer" bands from Arab country territory adjoining the Holy Land. One report quoted Jewish sources said 300 such "volunteers" had entered Palestine from Syria and attacked a Jewish settlement.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie opened the meeting here by expressing confidence that the Security Council would exercise "every necessary power" to see that partitioning is carried out by next October 1 without fail.

Lie did not mention the creation of an international military force as a specific partition enforcement measure, but the council has implicit in its statement, since the council has the power to set up such a force.

In an address at the opening of tense deliberations by the five-country U. N. Palestine Partition Commission, Lie declared:

"You are entitled to be confident that in the event it should prove necessary, the Security Council will assume its full measure of responsibility in implementation of the Assembly's (partition) resolution."

"You have the right to assume, as I assume, that in such a situation the Security Council will not fail to exercise, to the fullest and without exception, every necessary power entrusted to it by the charter in order to assist you in fulfilling your mission."

Lie underscored in his prepared text the words "to the fullest and without exception."

"You are to take the necessary measures," he said, "leading to the establishment, in Palestine, not later than Oct. 1, 1948, of an independent Arab state and an independent Jewish state. The resolution bears it."

At Pocaterra Arsenal, Lake Denmark, a spokesman said the military explosive was cyclonite, a high explosive with approximately the same strength as dynamite. The formula for it, he said, is a U. S. army secret.

At Romulus, N. Y., Lt. Col. Robert R. Judson, commander of the Ordnance Depot, also said the explosives had been consigned to Foundry Associates, Inc., to whom they had been sold by the War Assets Administration.

Judson said he was "checking" the situation and would have "no statement for the present."

Stassen Says Government 'Insiders' Have Made $4,000,000 Since War By Trading on Commodity Exchanges

Police and Marines Guard Explosives Found in Jersey

Prosecutor Believes Army Surplus Is Connected With TNT Taken at Pier

Asbury Park, N. J., Jan. 9 (AP)—More than 50 tons of surplus army explosives, seized yesterday in a raid on a nearby farm and found in a truck parked in the business district here, were under state police and U. S. Marine guard today.

Nine men were being held by state police and Monmouth county detectives.

New Jersey state police said an eight-state alarm was out for two more trucks believed headed here from the Seneca government war surplus depot at Romulus, N. Y., carrying the same type loads.

Monmouth County Prosecutor J. Victor Carton said he was "fairly certain" that more than 40 tons of explosives found yesterday on a farm in Wall township, five miles from here, were "tied up with" 65,000 pounds of T. N. T. found in 77 crates seized Saturday on a Jersey City pier.

The sealed truck, found by police late last night, parked near a warehouse on an Asbury Park street, also arrived from the upstate New York war surplus depot, Carton said. Police said the truck would not be unloaded until later today, but its load would boost the total of explosives over the 50-ton mark.

The truck, Carton said, was found near a warehouse owned by Charles Lowy, of Asbury Park, who he said also owned the farm. Lowy, arraigned last night before Justice of the Peace Fred Quinn of Freehold, pleaded innocent to a charge of storing explosives without a permit and was held in $5,000 bail pending grand jury action.

Lowy's bail was increased to $15,000 after the seizure of the truck in Asbury Park, Carton said. Carton said the farm was raided by state troopers from the Howell and Hightstown barracks, and prosecuted detectives after an anonymous tip was received by state police that trucks were unloading in the area of the farm.

Truck Driver Arrested
Carton identified another of the men arrested as Harry R. Sessions, 29, of North Stockholm, N. Y., driver of a truck which was being unloaded of explosives when police arrived at the farm. Sessions was held in $2,500 bail on a charge of transporting explosives without permit, when arraigned before Quinn.

Six other men arrested were charged with aiding and abetting the transportation and storage of explosives and were held in $500 bail each. They were booked as: Ed Chandler, George Evans, Edward Robinson, Charles Bond, Major Day, and Angelo R. Petillo, all of Asbury Park, and all employees of Lowy's trucking firm.

The driver of the sealed truck found in Asbury Park was detained without charge for arraignment today. His name was not revealed by police. Bail was furnished by Zimel Reiner, operator of amusement concessions on the Asbury Park boardwalk, and a prominent leader in Jewish community affairs.

The explosives, Carton said, were army surplus demolition blocks which had been sold at the Ordnance Depot at Romulus, N. Y., and were consigned to the Foundry Associates, Inc., 41 East 42nd St., New York city. In New York, the Telephone Company said it had no firm by that name listed for the East 42nd St. address.

At Pocaterra Arsenal, Lake Denmark, a spokesman said the military explosive was cyclonite, a high explosive with approximately the same strength as dynamite. The formula for it, he said, is a U. S. army secret.

At Romulus, N. Y., Lt. Col. Robert R. Judson, commander of the Ordnance Depot, also said the explosives had been consigned to Foundry Associates, Inc., to whom they had been sold by the War Assets Administration.

Ambassador Urges Aid to Europe: Says U. S. May Be 'Armed Camp'

British in Clash With Arabs Who Attack in Galilee

Invaders Cross Syrian Frontier to Wage Two-Hour Battle; Blow Water Line

Jerusalem, Jan. 9 (AP)—Jewish sources said British troops clashed today with 300 volunteers of an "Arab people's army" which crossed the border from Syria and attacked a Jewish settlement in upper Galilee.

These informants said two settlers were injured in a two-hour battle with the Arabs in the first large attack by forces from across the Syrian frontier. The informants expected whether the Arabs were led by Fawzi Kawkaji, one of the chiefs of the Palestine Arab revolt of 1936.

Jewish sources said the Arabs arrived in trucks and, before attacking Kfar Saida, a collective settlement named for the American philanthropist Henrietta Saida, struck at the nearby settlement of Dun and blew up a water pipeline.

New deaths by violence in the Holy Land brought to 643 the toll since partition was announced. In Jerusalem, British soldiers, behind police armored cars, took four truckloads of supplies into the old walled city, where 1,500 Jews have been besieged by Arabs since New Year's Day.

The convoy went through the Arab blockade after a Jewish leader declared the beleaguered people inside the old city were in danger of starvation. Arab guns dominate all the gates to the walled city, its Jewish quarter and the historic wailing wall, where Jews have prayed for centuries.

Chief Rabbi Haim Herzog pleaded earlier with the British in the name of God to break the Arab blockade. An army spokesman said arrangements had been made with the Arabs to permit passage of the food convoy, but he added he was convinced there were plenty of supplies in the city. He said the Jews had forfeited their political capital of a "situation by demanding the British take food through an Arab blockade in the name of humanity."

The Stern Gang, extreme group of the Jewish underground, issued a statement telling foreign correspondents of immunity by carrying identification cards from the Arab high executive.

Two Arabs and a British policeman were injured in an explosion of a crude shoebox bomb planted in an Arab bus in Jerusalem.

U. S. Gives Four Big Submarines to Turkey

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—The United States is transferring to Turkey four fleet-type submarines and navy crews will deliver them to a port of this eastern Mediterranean nation.

The submarines are among 15 navy vessels of various types which the navy announced today are being transferred under the $200,000,000 Turkish aid program voted by the last session of Congress.

The announcement came at a time that 1,000 marines are en route to strengthen crews aboard U. S. warships in the Mediterranean. Some of these ships are waters about Greece where guerrilla warfare marks the conflict between the Communism stemming from Soviet Russia and her eastern satellites, and western Europe and the United States.

Russia, Turkey's huge neighbor, has repeatedly been reported by navy officials here to possess one of today's largest submarine fleets.

Huge Armament Spending, High Living Costs May Be Alternative, Lewis Douglas Says; Would Weigh Matter Carefully

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—Ambassador Lewis Douglas told Senators today that huge armament expenditures and high living costs may be the alternative if Congress fails to vote an adequate European recovery program.

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the American Ambassador to London said some critics have argued that spending $6,800,000,000 to help Europe in the next 15 months would have inflationary effects here at home.

If Congress provides no aid, or inadequate assistance, Douglas went on, the United States may have to become an "armed camp" relatively isolated in the world.

He said the cost of armaments may be sure to have just as great an effect on living costs at home as would expenditures for foreign aid. He argued:

"We should calculate the cost of this program and its effect on the continued inflationary conditions at home against the calculated cost of doing nothing or doing something inadequate."

Douglas sat with Secretary of State Marshall yesterday when Marshall began presenting the administration's case for its proposed four-year program of helping Europe. There are reports that Douglas may be assigned to administer the program if Congress votes for it.

How the program should be administered already has become one of the most disputed points. The Truman administration wants a single administrator, a group of influential House Republicans is backing the idea of creating a special government corporation to handle the aid.

Would End Differences
In this situation, Senators Hatch (D-N.M.) and Smith (R-N.J.) called separately for party differences to be put aside in a search for agreement.

With Secretary of State Marshall standing firm on the contention that he must control vital policy decisions, Smith told a reporter he thinks a compromise is imperative with House Republicans who want a separate government corporation set up to administer the foreign aid program.

"But it must be a compromise without politics in it," the New Jersey senator declared. Smith earlier had urged Congress to avoid "political implications" and make the assistance program an "all-American plan."

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, Hatch proposed that the Republican and Democratic policy committees be invited to sit with

Butter Takes Drop On Market; Off 10 Cents in Week

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—Wholesale butter prices fell as much as five and a half cents a pound on the New York mercantile market today representing declines as high as 10 and a half cents since the start of trading Monday.

One large chain said retail prices were reflecting the declines with butter in self service stores down six cents to 93 cents a pound during the week and the price in service stores off four cents to 95.

Spokesman for the chain said transportation delays because of demand held the retail price at 95 cents a pound at the beginning of the week, but that he thought

State Revenues Are Running 42 Millions Over Year Ago

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—State revenues are running $42,000,000 higher than a year ago and will reach an all-time high of more than $700,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year, reliable sources said today.

They based their forecast on state tax commission collections of $500,400,000 for the first nine months of the fiscal period ending March 31.

The anticipated 12-month revenue total of $700,000,000 would be nearly $30,000,000 above Governor Dewey's estimates and $18,000,000 over the previous high.

The Legislature is expected to act Monday night on Dewey's request for deficiency appropriations of $26,217,900 that virtually will wipe out any operating surplus

Testimony Also Is Given That Pauley Did Not Fully Disclose His Activities

Says Others Linked Number of Persons High in Washington Said to Be Involved

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen testified today that high administration "insiders" have made a profit of about $4,000,000 by trading in commodities since the war.

Stassen, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, also told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee inquiring into speculation that Edwin W. Pauley, special assistant to Secretary of the Army Royal, "did not make a full disclosure" of his trading activities when he appeared before the committee last month.

Stassen said his information is that Pauley actually made a profit of approximately $1,000,000 through his trading and did not lose about $160,000, as Stassen said Pauley inferred.

He urged the committee to "carry through" with a complete investigation, saying integrity of government is involved.

In addition to Pauley, he named Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham and Ralph Davies. Besides these, Stassen said, "there are a number of others high in the administration that are involved."

The three he mentioned already have been disclosed on Agriculture department lists as having traded in grain or other commodities. Graham is President Truman's personal physician and Davies was in the administration during the war. Graham was invited by the committee to follow Stassen on the stand.

Stassen said he has information that administration figures have traded in commodities to the extent of about $20,000,000 and that "they have profited personally to the extent of $4,000,000."

Stassen and Committee Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) noted that a speech by Stassen in Doylestown, Pa., last December 10, in which he first made the charges about administration figures, led to the present inquiry.

Glad to Respond
The witness said he was glad to respond to the committee's invitation to appear "as I always will be."

There were, meanwhile, these other developments in an ever widening inquiry into the effects of speculation in commodities:

1. The Department of Agriculture made public a list of major holders of oats futures during the 43-month period which ended last Oct. 30. The only name of a known government official was that of Edwin W. Pauley, who is special assistant to Secretary of the Army Royal.

The report showed that Pauley was in and out of the oats market from March, 1946, when he was "long" betting on price rise—340,000 bushels, until November, 1947, when he held a "long" position of 309,000 bushels.

The House Ways and Means Committee was called into a closed session (10 a. m.) to consider legislation by Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) which would open up income tax returns to a special House group inquiring into the speculation field.

2. Chairman Andressen (R-Minn.) called a meeting of the special House committee (3 p. m.) to report the results of a private one-man sleuthing expedition he made through the Midwest.

A closer inquiry into the mid-west exchanges will be one result of his trip, Andressen said, adding that his committee is "making plans for a more extensive investigation of speculative grain trading."

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee which called in Stassen and Graham made a similar promise.

"Just Getting Started"
"We are just getting started," Ferguson said.

He plans to recall Pauley, who

Vajta Is Seized, Will Be Deported

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—The Justice Department today announced the seizure of Ferenc Vajta, 33, on a charge of using "false and misleading statements" to gain entry into the United States.

The department said Vajta's presence here is "prejudicial to the interests of the United States" and said he was en route to Ellis Island to await deportation proceedings. Why his presence here is "prejudicial" was not explained in the warrant against him.

Vajta was arrested in Washington by immigration agents on a warrant charging that he entered this country under an assumed name last December 16. The name he used in obtaining a tourist visa in Madrid, a Justice Department official told reporters, was Francisco Vajta.

The official said Vajta, also known as Vajta, had been under surveillance in New York before coming to Washington.

Brooklyn Driver Fined On Two Traffic Counts

Robert L. Edmond of Brooklyn was fined $5 on each of two counts in city court this morning. He was charged with driving without an operator's license and with illegal passing. In addition to the fine, the license plates were confiscated and the registration revoked.

It was brought out in court that he had switched plates from his old car to a new one which he had purchased, without applying for the necessary transfer. He told the court that he did not know about the law in this matter.

He was arrested at 11:15 p. m. Thursday by Special Patrolman Joseph Myers at the Broadway Chop House and Restaurant.

Budget Is Discussed

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—President Truman went over his proposed budget with his cabinet today in a brief White House session. Members, leaving the regular Friday session, would not comment on the size of the appropriation requests Mr. Truman will submit to Congress Monday. Jesse Donaldson, the postmaster general, was asked by a reporter if he was "amazed at the size of the total." He replied, "I was amazed at the size of the cuts."

Two Gunmen Rob Store of $50,000 In Massachusetts

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 9 (AP)—Two gunmen today held up a big department store run by the Harvard Cooperative Society and escaped with $50,000 to $50,000—throwing smoke bombs to cover their getaway.

Working with split-second timing, the gunmen grabbed the cash just as it was delivered from a bank by special policeman in an armored car.

Panic broke out in the big store in busy Harvard Square—just outside the entrance to Harvard Yard—when cries of "fire" startled about 200 customers as the fleeing gunmen threw their smoke bombs.

A third man waited at the wheel of the getaway car. Police who had delivered the cash to handle the week-end business were just leaving when one of the gunmen jumped into the cashier's cage, brandishing a pistol. He grabbed the bag containing the cash.

The second bandit tossed a smoke bomb at the entrance of the store—sending up a cloud of smoke.

The armored truck that delivered the cash was still outside the store when the robbers made their first move—after standing casually outside the cashier's cage as if they were customers.

Police said the gunmen made a getaway in a small black car. While two of the robbers worked inside the store, a third waited at the wheel of the car whose motor was kept running.

Marshall Won't Resign

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall today described as wholly incorrect speculation that he would resign in Congress fails to enact a European recovery program in the manner he proposes. Marshall volunteered at a news conference this information on his attitude. He had declined earlier in response to a question to add or subtract from his statement yesterday that Congress should meet all the requirements of European recovery plan or else not undertake the job at all.

Warning Is Given About Danger of Whooping Cough

Dr. George James, commissioner of health, today issued a warning to all parents of small children about the dangers of whooping cough. "Many people still believe that whooping cough is a harmless childhood disease," Dr. James said, "but, in reality, it is responsible for many deaths each year, particularly among babies under one year of age."

Immunization against whooping cough is now available to every baby in Kingston through the two free clinics held by the Ulster County Health Department every Monday afternoon. A new clinic has been started at Recreation Hall, 97 Broadway, near the Orpheum Theatre, for all residents of the Rondout area.

Parents in this vicinity should bring their children in for immunizations against whooping cough, diphtheria and small pox on Monday afternoon from 1:30 to 2:30. Another clinic is held on the same afternoon from 4 to 5 at 23 E. O'Reilly street, for the convenience of people living near to this clinic. All children not being taken care of by family physicians are invited to attend the free clinic.

John Dowd, formerly of Kingston, is one of the crew of the tug Justine McAllister which is standing guard over the TNT-loaded lighter in Raritan Bay off Staten Island and New Jersey. Dowd now lives at 322 East 14 street, New York.

The duty of the McAllister is to warn other craft to keep away from the lighter, loaded with 65,000 pounds of explosives which were seized by the F.B.I. as it was being loaded aboard ship bound for Palestine.

Sessions said the trucking company told him to go to the Lowy firm in Ashbury Park and from there he was taken to the farm.

Curton said he had requested U. S. Marines from the Naval Ammunition Depot at Earle to guard the explosives until they could be taken to Earle. The 65,000 pounds of TNT found in Jersey City were also taken to Earle.

Pennsylvania state police in Doylestown, Pa., said they were convinced a Bucks county farm, used as a summer camp for group celebrations, was the place where truckers picked up cases labeled "machinery" which were part of the 65,000 pounds of explosives marked for Palestine found in Jersey City Saturday.

The Jersey City shipment was seized while it was being loaded on a freighter for the American Export Lines bound for Palestine.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—Strong spots, mainly among oils, persisted in today's stock market but many leaders inclined to give ground.

Dealings slowed down and then after a fairly active start. The direction was a bit cloudy near the fourth hour.

Reinvestment demand by those who had sold for tax purposes, in addition to special situations, provided the principal trend props. Accounts were trimmed in numerous cases because of doubts regarding business, taxes, European relief and disturbing foreign affairs.

Plymouth Oil again was a wide jumper, opening almost an hour late on a 5,000-share block, up at a new high, and later extending the advance. Reports of a big expansion in petroleum reserves still was a buoying factor here. Superior Oil of Cal. and Skelly Oil also added several points each. Ahead at intervals were Goodrich, Firestone Tire, Nickel Plate Railway (on reports of buying into this road by Lacksawanna, Pa.) and Western Oil.

Oil, Douglas Aircraft, American Can and Allied Chemical. Lagged most of the time were Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, North American, Kennecott, du Pont, C. P. Penney, American Tobacco, Paramount Pictures, Twentieth Century-Fox, Universal Pictures, Texas Co. and United Airlines.

Railway bonds did well. Commodities turned irregular.

Bank Robbery Nets Bandits $114,000

New Orleans, Jan. 9 (AP)—Four unmasked armed men held up a mid-town New Orleans bank this morning and its President A. P. Inahorn, said they escaped with $114,000 in cash.

The men forced their way into the bank five minutes before opening time, slugged a Negro janitor into unconsciousness and herded between 22 and 25 employees into locker rooms. They then forced the bank manager to unlock the vault.

Detective Joseph Tardio said the men took $60,000 from one section of the vault, and an estimated $54,000 from other parts of the safe and from the teller cages. Bank officials are still checking to determine the exact amount.

The Negro porter, Joseph L. Thomas, admitted the four men, while he was letting early customers into the bank about 8:30 o'clock.

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—The dizzy-spiraling expenditures of the Veterans Administration reached a total of $7,805,355.201 during the fiscal year ended last June, more than 12 times the pre-war rate. Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., reported to Congress today.

The agency's appropriation for fiscal 1948 is $6,964,457,080.

Local Labor Won't Back Wallace Is, Yerry's Contention

Henry Wallace as a candidate for the presidency will gain no support from local labor organizations, George E. Yerry Jr., of the Kingston Metal Trades Council told students of the Myron J. Michael School who participated in a radio forum over station WIKY Thursday night.

The local labor leader said he believed local labor would not back Congressman Jay LeFevre, but he did not commit himself on the question of local labor support for Governor Thomas E. Dewey, if he secures the republican nomination for president.

Labor groups, locally, he said, were opposed to the Taft-Hartley Act and the Condon-Wadlin bill. The forum group questioned Yerry and Mabel L. Fisher, business agent of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, Local 188, who answered several questions on local labor activities for the students.

Harold Bunting, teacher at the M.J.M. School was moderator. The program was arranged by Miss Mary Kelly, also a teacher at the school.

The students who participated were: Marilyn Werblowsky, Eleanor Howard, Ronald Rodden, Allan Deegan, Thomas Brower and James Young.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JANUARY 9, 1948

BEST WISHES

In the removal from this city of Harold V. Clayton and Albert E. Milliken, the City of Kingston loses two prominent businessmen and active civic workers.

Mr. Clayton, who as assistant to the president of the State of New York National Bank, has accepted a similar position with the Rome, New York Trust Company. Mr. Milliken, who has been engaged in architecture in this city, has returned to active duty with the air force and will be stationed in Washington, D. C., in the Air Installation Division.

Mr. Clayton, a conscientious and indefatigable worker, had been president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce during the past year. Both these men were keenly interested in all phases of municipal and civic affairs.

While in the service of their country, these men also made outstanding records.

Mr. Clayton in 1940 entered federal service as a captain in field artillery with the New York National Guard. He rose to the rank of major in 1942, lieutenant-colonel in 1943 and colonel in 1945. Commander of the 220th Field Artillery Battalion (105 mm. howitzer) with the 44th Division, he was in combat in the European Theatre for seven months. He was the recipient of the Legion of Merit decoration and of the Bronze Star with an Oak Leaf Cluster and three battle participation stars.

Mr. Milliken was originally commissioned in the Corps of Engineers in 1943, but was transferred to the Eighth Air Force while in England. He served as major and became executive officer of the 571st Squadron in the 390th Bombardment Group. Since being relieved from active duty, he has edited the history of the 390th Bombardment Group.

Bidding good-bye and good luck to friends of long standing never is a pleasant task. Our best wishes go with both these men.

MORE TEACHERS

From a number of colleges where teacher-training courses are offered comes the heartening news that there is a definite upswing in the number of students planning to enter the teaching field. With the school teaching profession headed for the rocks lately because of war inroads, poor salaries and generally shattered morale, it is indeed good news to learn that a turn for the better has come. In a field that too long has been dominated by women, it is encouraging, also, to have reports that many men are in the teacher-training courses.

One warning note is sounded, however. In many colleges the students are getting themselves ready for high school jobs whereas the more serious teacher shortage in the nation generally is in the primary and grammar grades. Since many boards of education are adjusting their salary scales to pay lower grade instructors as well as those of high school levels, many of these prospective teachers can be persuaded, perhaps, to change their goals to handling younger children.

American schools are not to wither and die, and American children to go teacherless, as was the sad outlook only a short time ago. The teaching profession is raising its inducements and will gradually restore itself to the level of respect and admiration it merits.

NO VIGILANTES NEEDED

Thirteen men in Glendale, Cal., marched into a political meeting and tried to break it up, being prevented only by the arrival of sheriff's deputies. The ringleaders have now been fined $250. They should also be compelled to read the Constitution of the United States and memorize the passages guaranteeing free speech and the right of assembly. It is out of vigilante stuff such as these Glendale trials to put on that Fascism grew and succeeded in taking over Italy, and Nazism captured Germany.

It's a sad fact that most of the boys and girls in the world have never had any sleigh-riding.

RAIDING AN EMBASSY

On April 6, 1927, Chinese police and troops, armed with a warrant countersigned by the Dean of the Diplomatic Corps in Peking, raided the compound lying to the west of the Soviet Embassy. In the buildings of this compound, they found certain very interesting documents, some of which are pertinent to present problems.

Among them were a few relating to Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang, who is now in the United States attacking his own government and strengthening public support for the Chinese Communists. I give these documents as they appear in the China Year Book for 1928.

"Feng Yu-hsiang's Receipts"

"A certified copy of the obligation signed by Feng Yu-hsiang in 1926 while in Moscow. This copy was on file in the office of the Soviet Military Attache in Peking.

OBLIGATION

"I, Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang, undertake hereby a solemn obligation before the Government of the U.S.S.R. that for all military as well as all other supplies whatever they may consist of, which I have received from the Government of the U.S.S.R. or its organs, I judge myself to compensate their value to the Government of the U.S.S.R. at its first demand and in the manner prescribed by the Government of the U.S.S.R.

"By the supplies mentioned in the present obligation I understand the supplies received by me personally in the capacity of the Commander in Chief of the Kuomintang as well as the supplies received by the Commanders of the authorized officers of the Individual National Armies.

"As acknowledgment of the present obligation I set my hand and seal thereto.

Moscow August 1926.

"Translator's note:

"Under the above obligation the following pledge (in Chinese) has been given by Feng Yu-hsiang: 'I hereby undertake the obligation and give my assurance that for all military and other supplies received by me in the capacity of the Commander in Chief of the Independent National Armies from the Government of the U.S.S.R. I am obligated to repay their value to the Government of the U.S.S.R. which I certify by my signature.

The copy is certified by Rogatcheff, who in September, 1926, came as Assistant Military Attache to the Soviet Embassy in Peking.

Very Secret.

Two lists appear, one in the amount of Roubles 6,395,642, and another in Roubles 4,501,999.15. I cite these documents because the attempt is being made to paint Marshal Feng as a hero who objects to killing Chinese when as a matter of fact he has been engaged in doing precisely that ever since he reached power. When Soviet Russia protested these raids, the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs on April 16, 1927, said in a note to the arrest of important members of the revolutionary party and the discovery of banners to be used by the revolutionaries in an uprising, seals, rosters, and other incriminating evidence and documents. Besides there were discovered large quantities of arms and munitions, such as machine guns, rifles and cartridges and documentary evidence of communications between the Soviet Government and the revolutionaries. These were found either in premises directly under the control of the Soviet Embassy or in offices intimately connected with the Embassy. How can the Soviet Embassy deny its responsibility for harbouring and assisting the revolutionaries in conspiring to disturb and (sic) peace and overthrow the government to which it is accredited?

A SIMPLE TEST FOR MIGRAINE

I write frequently about migraine—one sided headache—because, despite the pain, nausea and vomiting, the great majority of cases can get relief by the use of ergolamine tartrate (2 to 4 milligrams) under the tongue at the onset of the attack.

As some cases of migraine have pain on both sides of the head and some do not have the nausea and vomiting, the physician may be in doubt as to whether the patient is suffering with migraine. In the "Journal of the American Medical Association," Drs. Max T. Schnitker and Maurice A. Schnitker, Toledo, report their test for migraine which they have been using since 1940. The patient is made to rest quietly on the examining table with the cuff of the blood-pressure instrument in place. A headache should not be present when the test is begun. To prevent any effect on the patient's mind, he is not told that the physician is going to attempt to bring on a headache.

After the blood pressure and resting pulse have been recorded, the patient is given two tablets of 1/100 grain size of nitroglycerin (the hypodermic tablet preferred), which constitutes 1/50 grain under the tongue. In the first two minutes there will be little or no change in the pulse, but the blood pressure may rise slightly in some patients. Between the second and fourth minutes the pulse will rise, the blood pressure will usually drop to below the level when the patient was resting, and the patient will begin to complain of symptoms.

The physician will engage him in conversation and he will describe his headache and other symptoms, and whether the headache is the same as the usual headache. The patient then is asked to compare the sensation produced by the tablets with the headache of his usual complaint. This is a simple method of finding out whether or not the headache is migraine. After the attack, the pain is relieved by the usual methods.

Drs. Schnitker state that this dose, 1/50 grain of nitroglycerin under the tongue, is safe with the vast majority of cases but may be too large in a few cases. In all cases, a physician should make this test for migraine.

SUPPORTING WALLACE

One thing worrying Democrats is that a considerable number of modernist Christian ministers are expected to support the Red horse, Henry Wallace, in the 1948 presidential sweepstakes.

It is indeed a paradox that Christian pastors will line up in the psychological warfare brigade which aims to destroy Christianity. But such is the power of deception of the strategists behind Henry Wallace and the Communist Party.

Wallace was greeted warmly by some Christian ministers where ever he stopped on his loud jaunt across the country a few months ago. That was just after he got back from his European trip in which he denounced the United States to European audiences.

Quite a number of ministers appear to consider this Soviet appeaser "deeply religious." Some also appear taken by the thesis that Soviet Russia represents a new kind of democracy, something they like to call economic democracy, which they believe earnestly concerns itself about the welfare of the common man.

This blindness on the part of some pastors, this inability to see the facts of economic social and church life, is not doing the church any good. It is one sure way for ministers to discourage support.

After a meeting last summer of California and Arizona church officials at San Diego, which meeting adopted a resolution condemning the profit motive in private enterprise, a number of laymen wrote or spoke to me in a manner which betrayed a loss of respect for the leadership and understanding of certain pastors.

Some Are Anti-Wallace

How many ministers will support Wallace and how many laymen they will take along into the Red camp is anybody's guess. Many a minister will oppose him, of that I am sure, for the Marxists are a small minority among Christian ministers.

It is to be expected, however, that some of the top policy makers of the Federal Council will vote for Wallace unless Truman stays so far over to the left in the Red corner as to satisfy their requirements.

I think the influence of Wallace may force Truman to ease up in Oslo, (N) The newspaper Faedrelandsvennen of Kristiansand, reports that a private hydro-power company plans to build a giant dam at Bykle, north of Trondheim.

According to the plan, the new dam will be twice as large as the biggest in Norway up to now.

President's Tax Stand Reversal Seems to Mark Him as Poor Political Strategist

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 9—The consensus here seems to be that as a political strategist President Truman is his own worst enemy.

Having adopted a position on tax reduction that was not only plausible but defensible for the year 1948 as well as 1947, the President needlessly threw away his point and weakened himself immeasurably.

Originally Mr. Truman held that, with the uncertainties about expenditures overseas and the need for debt retirement, he felt that tax reduction was inopportune. He unwisely said last year that the bill he vetoed was the "wrong kind of tax reduction at the wrong time" but even this did not erase his point that taxes couldn't be reduced in the face of huge expenditures abroad.

Now, week after week, the President comes out with a program of his own. Evidently this is the "right time" for tax reduction and he proposes his own scheme. True enough, Mr. Truman says corporations should be taxed more to make up for tax reductions to individuals. Nevertheless he has committed himself to the principle of a tax reduction in 1948.

The debate, therefore, no longer is whether or not there should be tax reduction but merely as to what kind.

This makes it possible for the Republicans and Democrats to compete with each other on rival plans. In the end, a tax-reduction bill will be passed by overwhelming vote on the assumption that it is the bill then before Congress or none at all. Members of both parties will await a veto and then the vote to override will be even larger. For then the real choice will be between the vetoed bill or no bill.

It is difficult to understand Mr. Truman's reasoning in offering a tax credit of $40 to all individuals, irrespective of their incomes, while urging an increase in corporation rates. For, by so doing, Mr. Truman alienates nearly all conservative voters, including many independent votes that normally come from conservative groups. At the same time Mr. Truman doesn't add much to his strength with the voters in the low-income groups because actually the Republican bill, when completed, will give a good break, than the $40 plan gives them.

The danger is that when the Republicans and Democrats begin competing with each other to give the voters bigger and better tax reductions, someone will get the right idea, that maybe the $7,000,000,000 in tax credits might be divided up into tax credits for the President's tax cut, certain extent, lost the advantage on the whole situation and perhaps imperiled the original Marshall plan recommendation. For the tendency now will be to cut it deeper and deeper in the hope of outdoing the President's $40 plan. There is no doubt that Mr. Truman felt he was compelled to offer some kind of tax-reduction plan. It is unfortunate that he picked a demagogic scheme, for on its face the plan is being ridiculed even by Democrats except, of course, those from the extreme left who are delighted with any proposal that brings everybody down to one level irrespective of ability.

The President is really without good political advice. His message was a composite of many memoranda and suggestions, and it is reported that the document was pieced together by a couple of the President's assistants.

The idea of appealing to the radicals by giving them some of the same things Henry Wallace is advocating came undoubtedly from those political advisers who think the New Deal is very popular and that elections can be won on that basis. It will be recalled that in 1940 and 1944 international issues played a considerable part and that the late President Roosevelt's domestic policies were diminishing in political strength. Then when the Republicans won a landslide in November 1946, the Democrats of the "left wing" school insisted that the issues on which they lost were temporary and that the defeat was merely a reaction against rationing and meat controls.

The assumption by the White House now is that country wants rationing and controls and that the New Deal can come back into power. Never was a candidate for the presidency more mistaken. For in the last several months, during which Mr. Truman's curve of popularity has risen in the Gallup polls, the administration has not been radical. In fact the President has shown by his appointments and his policies that he was inclining to a middle-of-the-road course.

Now with the President's swing to the "left" it will be interesting to watch whether the Gallup polls change or whether the "left" will depend on the extent to which there is discontent among the voters in 1948. Already the Republicans contend that Mr. Truman has the power to deal with inflation and that his own administration is the cause of the price of grain. The tax issue may be a part, but opposition to radicalism will play an even more vital role in determining the outcome of the election. Mr. Truman, in choosing the radical side, has taken a long chance on what the mood of the country will be next November.

BABSON on BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES 1948

Washington, D. C., January 9—In addition to my formal forecasts which were in this newspaper last week, I now want to add something for readers to think over.

General Outlook

As heretofore stated, 1948 will be much like 1947—at least up to November 2. With most manufacturing companies enjoying large unfilled orders, there can be no depression in 1948. There, however, will be an increase in war preparations. This will mean the shifting of employment and credits from one industry to another. For instance, we may expect some slackening in industries devoted wholly to unessential peace work. Industries which were booming during World War 2, such as aircraft manufacturing, machine tools and shipbuilding, should pick up again during 1948.

If you are undecided as to how some special business will act in 1948, just consider how that business acted in the years 1938 to 1940. If the business prospered during those years, it will probably show increased activity during 1948. If it suffered, it may show a decline in 1948. There will be no World War 3 in 1948, but there will be marked preparation for it.

What About Inflation?

During 1948 there will be much talk in Washington about "checking inflation" but any attempts will be largely of the cosmetic variety and not fundamental cures. It is sound legislation to allocate materials to the more important industries. Doubtless certain allocations will be instituted during 1948. It also would help to reduce taxes so as to force people to leave the government employ and to produce. The only solution for inflation, however, is to discourage consumption and encourage production. Unfortunately, when the Government attempts to decrease consumption, people get panicky and increase their purchases; while controls tend to reduce production.

All Government attempts to interfere with the basic laws of supply and demand fail in their purpose. The only cure for rising prices is to let them rise to a point where production will be so profitable that it will increase to the amount which will be in excess of demand. This is the only way to decline in prices and in employment also. This cure is unpopular politically, and we will not see it before November 2, 1948.

Beyond allocating materials and reducing taxes, the only fundamental cures which the Government can provide are: (1) putting a ceiling on exports, (2) suspending the agricultural price support, (3) freezing wages and profits, (4) causing interest rates to rise sharply, and (5) reducing Government expenses. These movements would be unpopular politically, and I doubt whether we shall see them in 1948.

As for the selfish. We don't want the Federal Government to shut off the exports of OUR goods to suspend price support of OUR products, to freeze OUR wages or profits, to raise the rate of interest which WE are paying, or to discharge some relative of ours whom we must support—even at the cost of what would be the good of the nation as a whole. Hence, I again say, "only a spiritual awakening can prevent another severe bust."

Political Leaders Lack Courage
Members of Congress and the Administration know what to do. Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board has given Congress excellent advice, as reported. In the morning papers of November 26. These recommendations, however, are unpopular. Even Congressmen are putting their own selfish desires ahead of the nation's good.

Congressmen are fearful of labor leaders. They are fearful of veterans, thus, unwilling to take a courageous stand on housing and rents. They are fearful of the bankers, in fact, of all pressure groups in Washington. Hence, 1948 will witness more or less of a do-nothing Congress. I visualize that economic conditions will continue about as at present during 1948; but as a fever is necessary to cure many diseases, so economic distress seems necessary to bring people to their senses and to their knees.

Farley Welcomes Invitation to Talk in City January 24

James A. Farley, former postmaster general and Democratic national chairman, has accepted the invitation of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and will address the annual dinner of the Chamber, to be held in the New York State Armory, Saturday night, Jan. 24, it was announced today.

Raymond W. Garraghan, chairman of the Chamber's dinner committee, said today that Farley was pleased and anxious to appear in the city and has fitted in the engagement in his program despite a heavy speaking schedule.

In making public the report of the dinner committee today, Ray J. Dunn, executive secretary of the Chamber, said a special meeting of the dinner committee is scheduled for this afternoon in the Chamber offices, at 4:30. It is expected that arrangements will be made for the distribution of tickets to the members at that time, together with final preparation of other program activities.

Assisting Mr. Garraghan on the dinner committee, are Alfred Schmidt, Charles O'Connor, Harvey Kolts, Fred Ertel, Acting President Louis B. Steketee, G. J. Peterson, Clyde Wonderly and James L. Rowe.

Acting President Steketee has scheduled a regular meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber for Tuesday, Jan. 13, in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

James H. Betts, chairman of the Chamber's election committee, reported today that Alfred Schmidt, one of the suggested nominees to be considered for election scheduled for this month yesterday declined "with regret" the opportunity to be named as a director. Schmidt said that "various business responsibilities" which he has assumed prohibits devoting necessary time to outside efforts. Schmidt, however, is actively engaged in promotion of this year's annual dinner.

When you acknowledge an introduction, don't try to be clever and original in your response. "How do you do?" or "How do you do, Mr. Johnson?" is best. Repeating the person's name shows you heard it and incidentally helps you remember it better.

Never say "Pleased to meet you" or "Charmed, I'm sure" which sound affected and insincere.

Defective Papers Returned to Vets

More Than 600,000 Files for Bonus; Errors Are Pointed Out

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—More than 600,000 veterans have filed for the state bonus, "hundreds" of checks have been mailed out and "thousands" of defective applications sent back.

Leo V. Lanning, director of the state's $400,000,000 bonus operation said today more than one-third of New York's estimated 1,600,000 veterans had applied. Applications for the $50, $150 and $250 payments have been received only since January 1.

Lanning said most of the defective applications were "incomplete." The most common mistakes, he added, were:

Failure to indicate whether a previous application had been made for the state bonus, New York or any other state.

Improper completion of the residence certificate, on the back of the application, which must be "made out by an adult resident of the state—not a relative—who knows where the applicant resided for six months before entering the service and at the time the application is made." The Blue Laws

A correspondent desires to know what were the blue laws of New England in 1807. They are given substantially as we publish them. Those strange prohibitions have long since become obsolete, but as curious specimens of legislation in the early days of New England we produce them for the amusement of our readers.

Every rateable person who refuses to pay his proportion to the support of the minister of the town parish, shall be fined by the court 12 and 14 every quarter, until he or she shall pay the rate to the minister.

Men stealers shall suffer death.

Whoever wears clothes trimmed with gold, silver or bone lace, above two shillings by the yard, shall be presented by the grand jurors, and the selectmen shall tax the offenders at £300 estate.

A debtor in prison, swearing to no estate, shall be let out and sold to make satisfaction.

Whoever sets a fire in the woods, and it burns a house, shall suffer death; and persons suspected of this crime shall be imprisoned without benefit of bail.

Whoever brings cards or dice into his dominion shall pay a fine of £5.

No one shall read common prayer, keep Christmas, or Saint's day, make minstrel pies, dance, play cards, or play on any instrument of music, except the drum, trumpet and Jew's-harp.

No gospel minister shall join people in marriage; the magistrates only shall join in marriage, as they may do it with less scandal to Christ's church.

When parents refuse their children convenient marriages, the magistrates shall determine the point.

The selectmen, on finding children ignorant, may take them away from their parents and put them in better hands, at the expense of their parents.

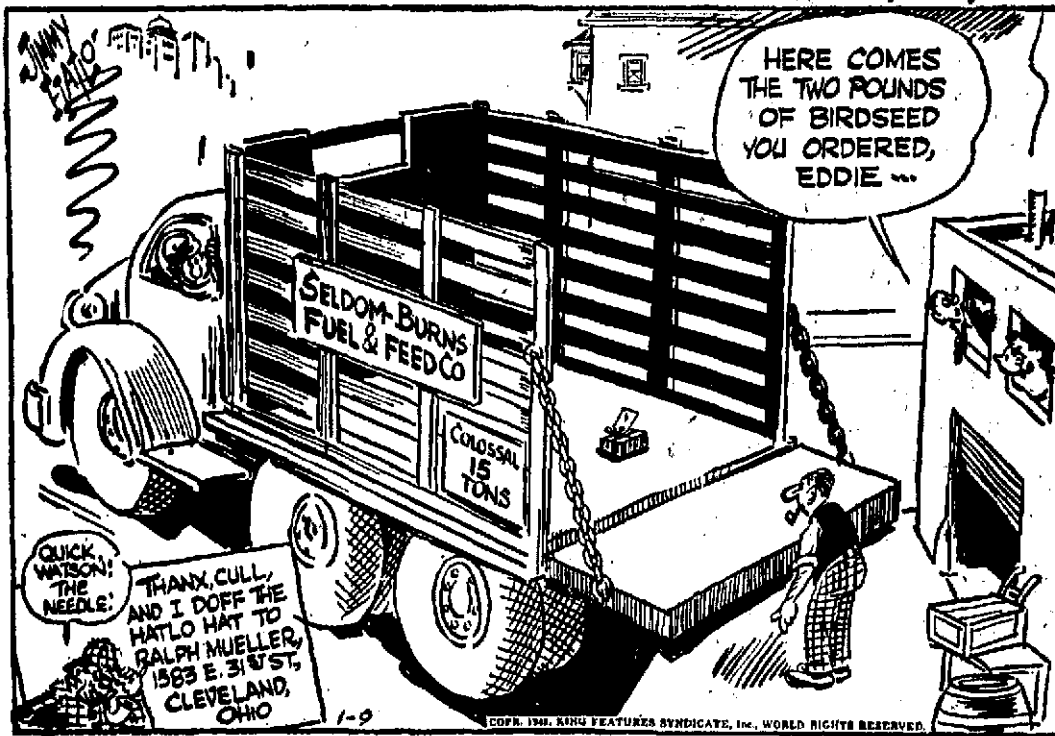

A man who strikes his wife shall pay a fine of £10; a woman that strikes her husband shall be punished as the court directs.

A wife shall be deemed good evidence against the husband.

No man shall court a maid in person, or by letter, without first obtaining the consent of the parents, £5 penalty for the first offence; £10 for the second, and for the third, imprisonment during the pleasure of the court.

Every male shall have his hair cut round according to a cap.

The proper wording for such an item? Answer: If I were you, I would send the following information to the society editor of the newspaper: "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith are quietly observing their 25th wedding anniversary next Thursday, and will be at home to any friends who may care to come to see them on that day."

JUDGE SOMEONE BY HER MANNER

A perplexed reader asks: "When an acquaintance says, 'I was so glad to meet you and do hope we shall learn to know each other better,' but then never comes to see you or sends you an invitation, would you consider that she really meant to be friendly? I do like this person very much and would like to know her better, but I hesitate to invite her first because she is socially more important than I am. I feel she should make the first move. However, if you say I may ask her then should I ask others at the same time?"

Many people with the most friendly intentions are often careless about making the first move. Unless you have a very definite reason for believing her insincere, it would be entirely proper to invite her first to have a cup of tea either with you alone or when others are expected.

Boy Preferred

Dear Mrs. Post: If a girl already has made an engagement to go to the movies with several girl friends and a boy calls and asks her for a date for the same evening, is she being rude in canceling her engagement with the girls and going with the boy? I'm in Dutch with these girl friends because I changed my mind about them and went out with a boy. But I'll bet each one of the other girls would have done the same thing. However, I'd like to know whether you think I was wrong?

Answer: What you did was not wrong because you were going with several other girls and did not spoil their evening. Had your engagement been with one girl alone, your behavior would have been unfair since you would have left her to spend the evening alone.

Observing Anniversary Without Party

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents soon will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. However, due to mother's ill health, we are not planning to have a party, but I would like to put a notice in the social column of our newspaper to the effect that mother and dad will be at home to welcome their friends. Would you please tell me

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Awarded Degree

Fear of Want Must Leave Men's Mind, She Says, as Peace Prelude

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 9 (AP)—All the talents and determination of mankind must be used to attain peace if mankind itself is to survive, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said in an address here yesterday after receiving an honorary degree of doctor of laws from Queen's University.

If war is to be eliminated, the fear of want must be banished, Mrs. Roosevelt said, but as a preliminary to this the fear of want must be driven from the minds of men. "I have come to believe that just as long as people have to struggle for their next meal, as long as they have to live in conditions which make living a mere existence, there cannot be any sense of security or of confidence among nations and we cannot hope for peace," she said.

Her address was heard by 1,500 students of the university where President Roosevelt accepted an honorary degree 10 years ago. Mrs. Roosevelt spoke at the morning convocation and again in the evening, when she attended a dinner in aid of a crippled children's fund. In the afternoon she held a news conference and was a guest at tea of the Faculty Women's Club.

Mrs. Roosevelt said the United Nations was the responsibility of everyone. "We must not be depressed by failures," she said. "The international machinery now functioning will work exactly as we human beings make it work. Where we fail, it will fail."

Foster, Eastman Ask For Better Schooling

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—Improved educational opportunity for rural youth was urged today by two agricultural leaders, one of whom held that progress in rural education was on the down-grade because "the state is not contributing its full share" of increased education costs.

Edward S. Foster of Ithaca, secretary of the State Farm Bureau Federation, listed better schooling for farm boys and girls as the least spectacular but most important factor in any long range agricultural program.

He and Edward R. Eastman, editor of the "American Agriculturist," discussed the subject in addresses prepared for the closing session of the convention of the State Vegetable Growers Association and the Empire State Potato Club, Inc.

"Unfortunately," said Eastman, "progress in rural education is now greatly down mainly because, like everything else, the cost of education has gone up and the state is not contributing its full share of this increased cost."

Foster said he was concerned because only one farm boy out of every three in New York rural high schools reaches graduation. He added that the situation correlates closely with the narrowness of the educational opportunities available.

Foster also said a long range program for farm people should provide a stable price level without government support prices.

He claimed that high support prices except in times of great national emergencies might lead to government control of production. And the attending regimentation.

He added, however, that farmers were entitled to protection against ruinous and suggested that a system of income payments to farmers during periods of severe depression would have all of the advantages and none of the disadvantages of support prices.

Living Really High

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—The cost of living for moderate-income families in large cities rose 7 of 1 percent from mid-October to mid-November, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today. The consumers' price index rose to 164.9 percent of the 1935-39 average, a new record high, the bureau said, confirming its preliminary estimate of index, made a week ago.

DADDY IS ALIVE

Mrs. Raymond A. Eick, 27, holds her four-month-old daughter Deborah Ann, after learning in her Hamilton Township home, near Trenton, N. J., that her husband, co-pilot of Coastal Airlines plane, survived a crash near Savannah, Ga., which killed the pilot and 16 others.

Heiress, Husband Face New Conspiracy Trial

San Rafael, Calif., Jan. 9 (AP)—Ann Cooper Hewitt Nicholson, the heiress who figured in a 1935 sterilization case, moaned today "I'll never live through it" as she contemplated a new trial with her fourth husband on conspiracy charges—as well as possible perjury action.

When a jury was dismissed late yesterday, hopelessly deadlocked over whether the couple conspired to violate California's premarital blood test requirements, the prosecutor said he not only would try them again but would ask perjury indictments.

Mrs. Nicholson, whose father was the late Peter Cooper Hewitt, millionaire inventor, was half-carried from the courtroom.

Her husband, Frank Nicholson, a radio disc jockey whom she married 24 hours after his previous wife committed suicide, said:

"I'd like to go somewhere and lay down and die. I've lived 10 years in the last three months."

The couple pleaded ignorance of the law.

Beef Brisket Offers Saving

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Here is a recipe too important in these times of food saving and high costs not to repeat. It will do well for Sunday's main dish and leave enough for hash on Monday.

Beef Brisket

Three quarts boiling water, 6 whole cloves, 1 bay leaf, 2 cloves or less of garlic, 2 small onions, sliced, 3 stalks celery, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 4 lbs. lean brisket beef.

Combine the following ingredients in a large kettle: water, cloves, bay leaf, garlic, onion, celery, vinegar, sugar and salt. Cover and boil 30 minutes. Add beef. Boil 2 hours. Replenish water with boiling water if necessary. When meat is done remove. Slice and arrange on very hot platter. Pour horseradish sauce over meat and serve more sauce in separate dish.

Horseradish Sauce

(Serves 6)

One tablespoon butter or fortified margarine, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 cup drained horseradish, dash of pepper, 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon minced pimiento (optional).

Melt fat in saucepan. Blend in flour, salt, horseradish and pepper. Add milk gradually, while stirring, and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add pimiento. Serve with boiled beef, tongue, corned beef.

Fruit Salad Platte

(Individual serving)

One ripe Anjou or Russet pear, 3 orange slices, 3 cooked dried prunes, cream cheese, lettuce cup, cherries for garnish, French dressing.

Arrange lettuce cup on salad plate. Wash, halve and core the pear and dip cut side in lemon juice to keep from turning dark. Arrange through the center of the plate. Arrange orange slices on the back of the plate, and place the prunes, stuffed with cream cheese, between the pear halves. Garnish pear halves with maraschino cherries. Serve with French dressing.

Girl Scouts Packing Kits For Overseas Children

Woodstock, Jan. 9—At the suggestion of Doris McClelland, Intermediate Girl Scouts of Woodstock Troop 28, are busily engaged collecting and sorting clothing for children up to 14 years old, which they are packing into kits to send to the children in Europe and Asia.

Mrs. McClelland states that each kit will contain a complete outfit for one child. A tablet and pencil is also included so that the child receiving the kit may write to the Woodstock scouts. Anyone having clothing suitable for baby layettes or children up to 14 years of age, who would like to assist in this work may do so by getting in touch with Mrs. McClelland or any of the Intermediate scouts.

New Hampshire Primary Campaign Begins Formally

Concord, N. H., Jan. 9 (AP)—New Hampshire's presidential preference primary campaign formally got under way today with prospects it will lead to the first test of strength at the polls among Republican supporters of Dewey, Stassen and Eisenhower.

Even though G.O.P. leaders, for the most part, are shying away from openly taking sides, a contest appears assured for the state's eight delegate seats at the national convention.

Democratic leaders appear united behind President Truman. The March 9 primary is the first in the nation. The month-long period is filing to run as delegates open this morning with the states already beginning to take shape.

So far, only Harold E. Stassen has openly given his blessings to entering his name in New Hampshire.

Four supporters of the former Minnesota governor have already announced they would run as delegates pledged to him.

Two supporters of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said they would enter pledged to him and two others are filing under the banner of General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Within the last six months Stassen, Dewey and Eisenhower have appeared in New Hampshire—but only Stassen openly sought political support.

Dewey spoke at a charity drive—but took time out to confer privately with Republican leaders. Eisenhower sidestepped politics in appearing at a forum.

Whether supporters of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gov. Earl Warren of California—both announced candidates for the Republican presidential nomination—intend to seek delegates in the Granite state is not known.

Homemade 'Ear-Muffs'

Click With Dress Stylists

Oklahoma City, Jan. 9 (AP)—Let Paris dream up new looks; Oklahoma City will engineer them.

Take the problem of the plunging neckline—which plunges clear to the waist in some new look dresses, exposing a narrow vertical section of the wearer's midriff.

The problem is to keep it from plunging too far—vertically or horizontally.

It was solved here by George H. Willis in the middle of a domestic crisis involving his shapely brunette wife.

Mrs. W. bought a slinky silk dress, with the plunging effect—and then found no local shops sold the required underpinnings.

Willis took one glance at the price tag and reached for adhesive tape and wire. The result was crude but satisfactory—resembling an out-size pair of spring-clamp ear-muffs worn around the back and chest. They do the job without infringing on the neckline.

Now Willis finds the necessity that mothered his invention may bring him a pretty penny—a St. Louis corset firm wants to market his design.

Paul Simpson Meets Highly Rated Buffalo Boxer on Jan. 15 Card

Terry Teague, 188, Is Niagara Area Heavy Champion

PAUL SIMPSON

Paul Simpson, Cleveland heavyweight that many fans believe will follow in the footsteps of Joe Louis as champion of the world, will be on the next B'nai B'rith boxing card at the municipal auditorium, Thursday night, January 15.

Ben M. Becker of Albany gave this assurance today as he announced three of the five rounds, featuring some of the most outstanding amateur boxers.

Simpson's opponent will be Terry Teague, 188, of Buffalo who recently won the Niagara District Golden Gloves heavyweight championship. He boxes under the direction of George Lamphire, trainer of amateur and professional.

Hander Confident
"I know Simpson," said Lamphire. "He's a terrific right hand puncher, but outside of that he's just ordinary. My boy's smart and will take care of himself against the Pride of Cleveland. When Kingston fans see Terry Teague they'll be watching one of the greatest heavyweight prospects in New York state."

Three of Teague's stablemates are booked for the January 15 show. All of them are Niagara District Golden Gloves champions, rated by Lamphire as some of the best fighters ever developed in Buffalo.

Tony DiPelle, 147, the welterweight crown winner is matched with Bobby King of Amsterdam, the busy young slugger who beat Paul Hawks, the Beacon Bomber on the last card. Fans who saw King in action know that he can hold his own with any opponent. DiPelle is rated as a boy who'll

Tough Foe for Morton
Spider Thompson, Niagara District featherweight champion, is paired with Albany's Harold Morton, a local favorite. Both are action scrappers and this five rounder is down as one of the most attractive on the card.

Tony Bilko, brother of Frankie, will make the trip from Buffalo to meet a formidable 118-pound foe to be named in a day or two.

The rest of the card will be announced as soon as it is completed.

Crosby's Tourney Drew Golf Aces

Del Monte, Calif., Jan. 9 (AP)—Crooner Big Crosby presents his own idea of a bigtime golf tournament today, with the game's best professional and amateur shot-makers on hand to make it a top-flight meet.

The pros will play for $10,000 in cash and the amateurs for merchandise awards, with Crosby footing the bills and the profits going to the Sister Kenny Foundation and the Monterey, Calif., Community Chest.

Sam Snead and Roger Kelly, a former California amateur champion from Los Angeles, won last year's tourney—but this year the Ben Hogan-Johnny Dawson best-ball combination took the public eye.

Hogan was 1947's top money winner and won the $10,000 Los Angeles open. Dawson is a steady former California open and amateur title holder from Inglewood. Scores are not expected to be outstandingly low. Play is over three difficult courses on as many days.

Olle Tandberg Gets First American Test

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—How good is Olle Tandberg?

That's the subject up for discussion tonight at Madison Square Garden when the tall, blond Swede from Stockholm, who upset Joe Bukasi last July, meets the Cleveland "Cutie," Joe Maxim in his American pro debut.

The 10-round heavyweight scrap has been lost in the shuffle while the Twentieth Century Club has been busy signing Joe Louis on the dotted line for a defense of his heavyweight title next June.

But there has been enough talk about the Swedish swatter to lure about 12,000 customers and an expected gate of $60,000 to the Eighth Avenue Arena.

Yale's Odell Headed For Bigger Position

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—Nearly all the lobby rumors circulating around the gatherings of the American Football Coaches Association and the National Collegiate A.A. have to do with the possibility that Howie Odell will leave Yale for some more fertile coaching field.

In particular, the story is that Odell will take over the vacant coaching job at the University of Washington.

Odell is embarrassed to a considerable extent by all this talk, because he has no quarrel with Yale's athletic authorities, but he admits freely that he's interested in the Washington job and thinks he may be in line for it. And he's willing to listen to anyone else who is around making offers. He expects to meet representatives of West Virginia and Nebraska but doesn't know what these talks will lead to.

There was reliable talk that if Odell leaves Yale, attempts will be made to sign Herman Hickman, Yale's line coach, as head man at New Haven.

Yankee Fireman Gets $20,000

'Agitators' Are Active

Bogota, Colombia, Jan. 9 (UP)—Police authorities said today that "foreign agitators" had been active among striking employees of the Tropical Oil Company here and warned they would expel from the country any foreigner guilty of "subversive activities such as are preached by anarchism and communism." Approximately 6,000 employees of the oil company are idle as a result of the strike, which earlier this week caused the city to ban pleasure car driving and ration gasoline to other users.

Weiner Hose Holds Party; Murphy Is Honored by Group

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy was honored for his 40th year as a member of the Kingston Fire Department at the annual banquet of the Weiner Hose Company, No. 6, Thursday evening at Judie's Restaurant on Albany avenue. About 50 members and guests were present.

Fred C. Harder, president of the company and member of the board of fire commissioners, presented Chief Murphy with an appropriate gift after which several speakers extolled the outstanding service and cooperation which the hose companies of Kingston have given to the city in its fight against fire destruction.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and Alderman-at-Large Charles Turk, other invited guests, also spoke and praised the work of the Weiner Hose Company and expressed hope that such work will be continued during the coming year. Other officers of the Weiner Hose Company include Lee Gregory, who has been secretary for 28 years; and George Canfield, who has held the post of treasurer for 43 years. President Harder was recently elected for his 16th term.

Her son, Joseph Clark Baldwin, formerly represented New York's 17th District in Congress and before that served as a member of the old city board of aldermen. Mrs. Baldwin's husband, Joseph Clark Baldwin, Jr., died in 1937.

Ambassador Urges

the Foreign Relations Committee to consider President Truman's proposal for a 51-month program of economic aid for Europe expected to cost $6,800,000,000 in the first 15 months.
The New Mexico Democrat said this representative group could agree on an "American policy" with regard to foreign affairs and predicted the House would back up such a decision and that it would be approved by the President.
"If party political guides or directors any of us in these critical days of destiny," Hatch declared, "only disaster can or will result."
"The people do not want a Republican European recovery program. With equal vigor, I assert the country does not want a Democratic European recovery program. What the country needs and what the people are demanding is a United American program."

License Plate Print Brings Arrest, Fine

Rotterdam, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—The impression of a front license plate in a snow bank produced the evidence for arrest and a $100 fine for a Schenectady motorist.
Earl L. Douglas pleaded guilty yesterday to leaving the scene of an accident after his car had struck a parked automobile and landed in a snow bank.
This was the first year after a wartime lapse that front plates have been issued in this state. They are not required until February 1.

Martin Solicits Postcards From All Who Use Bus

Alderman James E. Martin made it plain today that he desires communications from all residents of Kingston interested in retaining the Fairview-Lucas avenue bus line and not just his constituents in the 12th ward.
Talking with a reporter, the floor leader in the Common Council pointed out, "there are many Kingstonians who use the bus line besides those who live in our 12th ward, and I'm soliciting their support in the fight to keep it in operation."
The Kingston City Transportation Corporation has announced that the line will cease running after January 15.

Alderman Martin suggested yesterday that those in favor of keeping the bus line operating send him a postcard stating: "We want the bus line continued permanently."
After he gets the signatures, Alderman Martin will prepare a petition for presentation to the mayor, Common Council and Public Service Commission for consideration.

Refrigerator Gas Saturates House

Refrigerator gas seeping into a third floor apartment at 15 West Chestnut street at 6 o'clock this morning caused the occupants to telephone to the police department.

Patrolmen George Bowers and Edward J. Leonard were sent to the building in a radio car, and police notified the fire department. Deputy Chief Harold Sanford responded in the chief's car.
The leaking refrigerator was found to be in the apartment of John McCabe on the second floor. Because of its location, the refrigerator could not be removed, but it was disconnected and several bowls of household ammonia were placed around the room to neutralize the gas.
No one was injured or harmed by the gas, the police reported.

Stolen Car Found By Radio Patrolmen

A car which was reported as stolen was recovered by Patrolmen Guernsey Burger, Sr., and Elbert Soper at 9:43 a. m. today, less than an hour and a half after police received the report of the alleged theft, according to police department records.
At 8:15 a. m. today, George Nettie, 34 Hunter street, told police his car had been taken from in front of his house during the night, probably between 9 and 10 p. m. The car was found shortly afterward abandoned in a snow bank on Hudson street near Abel street. Police said the car was apparently not damaged, and it was turned over to its owner.

Port of New York Has Biggest 'Take'

Revenues Are $26,842,953 for Year, Is Report

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—Revenues of the 26-year-old Port of New York Authority totaled $26,842,953 last year—highest in its history and more than $3,000,000 above the 1946 total.

The record income was reported yesterday by Chairman Howard S. Cullman at the annual meetings of the authority's commissioners during which Cullman was re-elected unanimously for a third term.

Cullman said the bi-state agency returned a profit for its first year in the air terminal field and asserted that prospects are bright for the authority's future as it expands into the bus terminal field and, perhaps, into harbor and pier development.

Cullman reported that operating revenues at La Guardia Airport between June 1, date the authority took over, and the end of 1947 totaled $852,552, or $50,000, in excess of expenditures.

His report also cited the authority's sponsorship of a survey made on traffic and equipment of the New York state canal system, its opposition to construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and re-counted services of the authority's Chicago office in promoting movement of commerce from the middle west to high New York.

The report declared the authority gave New York city $1,393,465 as part payment on land acquisition for Idlewood Airport. Cullman announced plans for construction of an $830,000 seawall to protect La Guardia from floods and said a contract will be let soon for building the projected authority truck terminal in downtown Manhattan.

The authority was established by New York and New Jersey. It holds jurisdiction over port facilities, tunnels and some bridges linking the two states.

President Awards 'Discharge' Papers To Service Group

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—President Truman awarded an "honorable discharge" today to the United Service Organization which for seven years provided entertainment and comfort for the U. S. Armed Forces and their Allies.

"The U.S.O. has fulfilled its commitment and discharged its wartime responsibility completely and with signal distinction," Mr. Truman said in a statement distributed in advance of a White House ceremony.

The organization, representing the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, collected a total of $236,721,295 in contributions from the time it went into action in February, 1941, through last month, the U.S.O. said in a final report today.

Dr. Lindsey F. Kimball, U.S.O. president, described the organization as "both a symbol of a nation's care for its sons and daughters in uniform and a principal channel for an unprecedented civilian participation in a total war effort."

New York led all states in contributions with $37,978,897, or 16.04 per cent of the total, followed by Pennsylvania, with $19,227,514 or 8.12 per cent.

Sues for $2,000

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—Paul Lamonia, butcher, of 100-12 101st avenue, Ozone Park, Queens, yesterday filed a $2,000 damage suit against the Long Island Railroad Company, claiming he was "wrongfully imprisoned" on one of the train's four night hot dogs during the December 26 snowstorm.

In a petition filed in City Court at Jamaica, Lamonia claimed that he boarded a Long Island train in Woodside, Queens, at 6:30

Ford, Others Named In Ferguson Suit

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—Henry Ford 2nd and the Ford Motor Co., the Dearborn Motor Corp., and seven other officers and directors of the companies were named defendants in a $251,000 damage suit filed yesterday in federal court by Harry Ferguson, a fish-born farm machinery inventor.

The suit charged that the defendants infringed on patents by copying the Ferguson line of farm tractors and violated anti-trust legislation by conspiring to drive the plaintiff's firm, Harry Ferguson, Inc., of Detroit, out of business.

In a statement at Detroit, Henry Ford 2nd described the complaint as "ridiculous" and "full of untruths."

has already testified that he started to liquidate his heavy holdings as soon as he entered government service last Sept. 3, and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

Ferguson said his group also will seek some information from Henry Morgenthau Jr., former secretary of the treasury, who was disclosed on Wednesday night to have sold 195,000 bushels of corn futures last June 30.

The Senate committee will want to find out, Ferguson said, whether Morgenthau's trading might go back to the time he was secretary of the treasury. In a brief statement, the former cabinet official said that he lost money through his corn transactions and that since they began 18 months after he left the cabinet he "obviously" had no inside information.

Morgenthau resigned in the summer of 1945. Ferguson declined to say how many witnesses would be called in the Graham inquiry, but he conceded that phase of the hearing was not likely to be completed today.

The Michigan Republican had promised Senator Green (D-R.I.), a subcommittee member, that he would wind up the hearing shortly after noon because Green is leaving the city. The hearing will probably be resumed next Tuesday, when Green plans to return.

Stassen Backers Tell Plans for Pennsylvania

Harrisburg, Jan. 9 (AP)—Pennsylvania backers of Harold E. Stassen for President announced plans for a vigorous bid for keystone state Republican support following his personal appearance here.

Col. Jay Cooke, Stassen's Pennsylvania manager, yesterday said state headquarters will be opened in Philadelphia Tuesday, January 13.

Stassen, who conferred for a half hour yesterday with Gov. James H. Duff, the man expected to head Pennsylvania's delegation of 73 in the G.O.P. national convention, said he was "very much encouraged" by his chat with the Governor and a luncheon with state and county leaders which followed.

The luncheon was arranged by Cooke to allow Pennsylvania Republican leaders to meet the 40-year-old Minnesotan and more than key state and local party officials attended.

Stassen said he "very frankly" considered Pennsylvania a key state in the race for the Republican presidential nomination which he asserted was "still wide open."

p. m. on the night of the storm and that he was kept on it until 3 a. m. the following day. The butcher said that after finally being let off the snowbound train at a Kew Gardens district stop, he had to walk five miles to reach his home.

Parkinson to Get Trial on One Count

Court of Appeals' Decisions Are Given; Murder Counts Upheld

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—Martin J. Parkinson, 57, of Yonkers, an A.F.L. leader convicted of attempting extortion in two instances, will be tried anew on one count.

The Court of Appeals yesterday annulled his conviction on a charge that he tried to extort money from the Pleasantville Construction Corporation, but affirmed his conviction in a similar case involving the Dravo Corporation.

The state's highest court, handing down its first decisions of the year, also upheld the first degree murder convictions of Willie Grant, 24, New York city, and George Louis Monge, 23, Brooklyn, for shooting a Chilean sailor.

These decisions were unanimous. There were no opinions.

The sailor, Guillermo Nunez, was killed during a New York robbery in November, 1946. Grant and Monge are to die February 19 for the crime.

Parkinson, a business agent for locals of the International Union of Operating Engineers and the Hoisting Engineers Union, was accused of attempting to extort money from the contractors by threatening them with strikes on New York City's Delaware Aqueduct.

He was sentenced June 7, 1946, to serve from three to six years for each conviction. Judge James G. Wallace of New York County General Sessions Court suspended the sentence, however, on the conviction reversed today. Parkinson

Charges 'Fear' Invoked

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick charged last night that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, in his message to the Legislature Wednesday, sought to "invoke fear" for the nation's future in a move to bolster his unannounced candidacy for the presidency.

Comparing Dewey's message and President Truman's "state of the union" address before Congress the same day, Fitzpatrick termed them "two of the important executive messages in many years," and added: "President Truman in his message reflects the confidence of the people in the future of the country, whereas Governor Dewey, to further his political ambitions, attempts to invoke fear."
